VALUE OF LAND HIGHER

Price Per Acre Twenty-seven Per Cent Greater Than Five Years Ago.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 7.—An increase of 27 per cent and a fraction in the average value per acre of land in Wisconsin, according to figures compiled by the state tax commission, has been made in the last five years. The increase for the previous five years was 31 per cent. Prices in 1915 were 63 per cent higher than those in 1905. The average value of land in 1905 was $33.75, in 1910 $43.25 and in 1915 $55.25.

Though Milwaukee showed the greatest increase, it is the only county with a large city to show a large gain, unless there were other causes than the presence of the city. The counties in which dairying is the greatest industry show the heaviest gains.
