Notes for CLARA AMELIA KRUEGER:

The Stratford Journal

Recently a dance was given at the Peter Weber place in the town of Eau Pleine and as refreshments for the musicians, Mrs. Weber had stewed a kettle of chicken. The odor from the lunch was so appetizing that Evan Towle, Geo. Huggins, Wm. Laessig and Duane Morrison could not resist and when opportunity offered they carried away the stew, kettle and all, and enjoyed a feast. Later the kettle was returned with apologies but Mrs. Weber failed to see the joke. A warrant was secured for the arrest of the perpetrators and they paid fines of $1.00 and costs.

Note: difference in parents names from originally believed parents, and also interment question! [correct name appears in this genealogical lineage]

The two Schars won by knockouts, one a technical, in the first and second rounds. Les Weber won his first fight from a CCC boy in the first round, and won his second from Florian Gust of Hewitt by decision. These boys will enter the finals at Wisconsin Rapids, February 17th.

WEBER, W. SCHAR WIN AT GOLDEN GLOVES

Les didnt have an easy time of it last Wednesday night at Wisconsin Raids, but he won anyway. He won a decision from Flossy Gust of Auburndale, and now will go to the championship Golden Gloves in Chicago. Les went down last year, and still thinks that he gave his opponent there a mighty good fight. He is quite confident this year of winning in Chicago. He is the ony 1940 champion to repeat.

Wesley Schar, fighting in the 118-pound class, knocked out Joe Gust of Nekoosa in the second round to cinch his trip to the Chicago Golden Gloves. The same evening he had won his semi-final fight from Orland Radke of Stevens Point with a knock-out.

Harvey Schar, Wes brother, lost his first fight to Bill Sickles of Wisconsin Rapids on a decision, but was given the right to fight in the finals when Sickles was unable to go on. However, Harvey lost that fight too, by a decision, to Ken Brenner of Stevens Point.
